Mother & Son Killed In Highway Crash

Sue Cain, 23 years old, and her son, Gregory, 2½, were fatally injured in an automobile accident on Route 59 south of Route 132 near Lake Villa last Wednesday at about 4:05 p.m.

Mrs. Cain died about 7 p.m. in St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan, shortly after the death of her son.

Another son, Milburn, 3½, suffered a concussion and is in St. Therese Hospital. He was unconscious for some time after the accident, but was reported to be recovering and in good condition yesterday.

Four people in the other car involved in the crash were injured and also taken to St. Therese Hospital by Lake Villa and Antioch Rescue Squads. They are Mrs. Mary D. Burbey, 27, of 3 Elm St., Camp Lake, Wis., the driver; her husband, Robert, 30; and two daughters, Bobby Jean, 3, and Robin, 6. All suffered head injuries. Two other daughters, Star, 4, and Jackie, 8, were uninjured.

Sheriff's deputies said they were unable to talk to those involved in the accident. A witness, Austin Schnaebele, Box 136C, Lake Villa, gave them an account of the accident.

Schnaebele said he was going south on Route 59, and was stopped behind a car waiting to make a left-hand turn into Fristak's store. Looking in his rearview mirror, he saw that the Cain car, also going south, was unable to stop, and saw it swing to the left, into the north-bound lane, where it collided with the car driven by Mrs. Burbey. Both cars went into the ditch on the east side of the road and burst into flames.

The fire in the cars was put out by workmen from Huecker's Garage in Lake Villa. The report of Sheriff's Deputy Herb. Horton stated that the cars had been removed from the scene when

H. S. Board Recesses Because Of Death

The Board of Education of the Antioch Community High School recessed after a short business meeting last Wednesday night, (Feb. 19) because of the sudden death of Susan Cain.

Mrs. Cain was a substitute teacher at the school; her husband, David Cain, handles the school's bookkeeping and is present at each meeting and his father, Milburn Cain, is a member of the Board.

Before recessing, the board approved adoption of the 1964-65 salary plan. There are two basic changes in this year's plan. The board granted a $200.00 across-the-board increase in pay for all teachers, and improved the salary plan.

Starting pay for beginners with a bachelor's degree is $5,200.00; with a Master's degree, $5,600.00. Top pay for the teacher with a bachelor's degree progresses up to $7,800.00 after 13 years; with a bachelor's degree plus fifteen hours of graduate work, $5,400.00 to $8,200.00. Pay for the teacher with a master's degree increases with a top pay of $8,600.00 after fifteen years.

The board accepted recommendations made by the curriculum committee, composed of chairman Dr. Richard Ripley, William Brook and Boyd Osmond, and approved these changes: Inclusion of a semester of business mathematics in the curriculum; authorized the introduction of a Physical Science course at the Freshman level. The Physical Science course is a laboratory course, helpful to the student in preparing for Chemistry or Physics.

International Relations, which has been a one-semester course, will include two semesters next year. The first semester will include basic political theory up to the 20th century; the second semester will cover Modern Politics.

The high school has been notified that they will receive $1,012.88 from the National Defense Education Act. The aid is given from the Federal program for Foreign Language courses.

The board authorized the school to participate in Public Law 874. Participation of a school includes the requirement that 3% of the enrollment be pupils whose parents are working on military establishments. A survey of the students will be made this year, and a claim made.

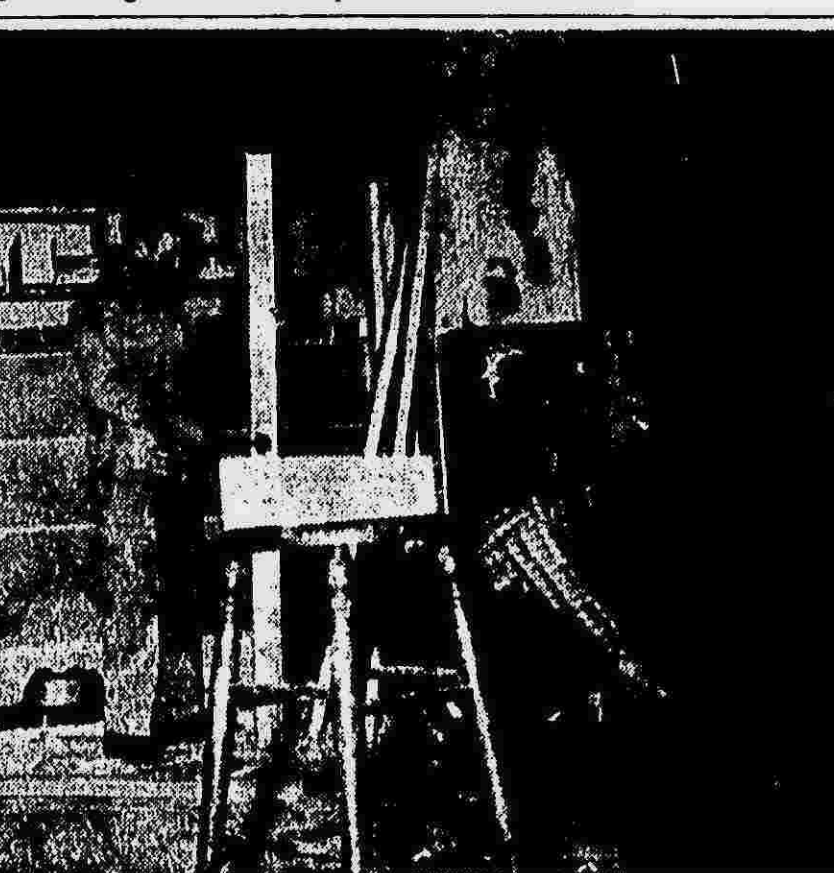

The board recessed until next Wednesday, Feb. 26.

MARIANNE, proprietor of MariAnne's Dress Shop, and Marvin S. Moss, of the K. M. Marston Co., look over the plans for the remodeling of the dress shop.

MariAnne's Dresses Up

MariAnne's Dress Shop will present a new face to customers who visit the shop this weekend.

MariAnne is completely remodeling her shop, at the same time enlarging it. Partitions have been torn out to incorporate a back room into the shop area. The walls throughout the shop will be paneled in white walnut, and new fixtures installed throughout the store.

In addition, the floor plan of the store will be altered so that different types of clothes will be displayed in specific areas. Sportswear, accessories and millinery will occupy the front portion of the store. Infant's wear and maternity clothes will be located near the center of the

MRS. CARL HATTENDORF, 371 Windsor Drive, Antioch, receives an award of $100.00 and a citation for a suggestion she submitted at Fort Sheridan, from Don McKay, her immediate supervisor.

Gets Award for Suggestion

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—Department of Defense policy is not only established by officials of the Office of the Secretary of Defense in the Pentagon. Frequently, policy is made or changed as a result of recommendations of personnel far removed from Washington.

Recent proof of this is when Mrs. Carl Hattendorf of 371 Windsor Drive, Antioch, received an award of $100 and a citation signed by Colonel Benjamin C. Chapla, Commander of Fort Sheridan, for a suggestion she submitted in connection with her position in the Central Procurement Office at Fort Sheridan.

Mrs. Hattendorf's suggestion for simplification of contracting procedures was adopted world-wide by the Army, Navy and Air Force and affects all military and defense installations.

Mrs. Hattendorf has been employed at Fort Sheridan for over six years. She was first assigned to the Post Motor Pool, then was transferred to the Central Procurement Office through the Civil Service promotional plan.

Mrs. Hattendorf and her husband, who is employed at Abbott Laboratories, have lived in Antioch for some 15 years. Their son, John, and his family also live in Antioch.

Willrett's car collided head-on with one driven by Carol Swanson, 43, of Rt. 5, Antioch, on the overpass on Route 83 near Lake Villa, at about 6 p.m. last Wednesday. Both men were taken to St. Therese hospital by the Lake Villa Rescue Squad.

Antioch Chamber to Meet Mon., March 2

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce has scheduled its second general meeting of the year, it was announced this week. The meeting will be held at the Antioch Savings and Loan Community room Monday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Verne Stretch of Libertyville. Mr. Stretch is the manager of the Libertyville Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting is open to members and interested parties and refreshments will be served.

Objections were voiced by several neighboring landowners to a petition for re-zoning heard in the old Village Hall in Antioch Monday, Feb. 24.

The Lake County Board of Appeals heard the petition of Joseph and Jean Kijak of Chicago to rezone about five acres of land on Grass Lake Road from R-4 to B-1. The petition was presented by Attorney Ted Larson for his clients. Joseph Kijak testified that he wished to build a ten-unit motel on one portion of the land and operate a picnic ground on another portion near the lake shore. He testified that he had no plans to operate a restaurant or tavern, and that he planned to build a home for his family also on the property.

The objections of neighboring land owners at times became so argumentative that Board Chairman B. F. Genty was forced several times to sharply cut off discussions by objectors.

Mrs. Jean Kelly listed several objections. She said their family home was a "retreat" for them, and the loss of their privacy would force them to sell their home. The business establishment, she said, would lower the value of homes in the area. The low water near the beach in the proposed picnic area would create an unsanitary condition, she said. She also brought up the question of a road established on the easement which ran across the Kijak property, and which serviced the homes behind the property. She expressed the fear that the road would be closed if Kijak built the motel.

Robert Milfaj and Joe Salasek said they supported Mrs. Kelly's objections. In addition, Milfaj pointed out that portions of the ground to be rezoned were under water during wet seasons. The recent drought accounted for its present dry condition, he said.

Salasek said he was in the process of building a home and had been assured when he bought the property that the area was strictly residential.

Cornelius Glom, president of the Grass Lake Improvement Association, said he represented 35 families of the subdivision with his objections. He expressed the fear that an "undesirable element" would be brought to the neighborhood by the motel and picnic grove. When he attempted to bring the racial issue into the discussion he was sharply ruled out of order by Chairman Genty.

Gilbert Meisgeier, a member of the board of Lotus School, said the area badly needed business zoning and enterprises, and that the additional taxes would be welcomed by the school board.

Kijak said he had bought the property about three years ago, with the intention of building a motel. Attorney Ted Larson pointed out that the proposed zoning changes of the Planning Board had designated the property Resort Residential.

Ward Ducl read a letter from the Lake County Board of Health stating that the property had been found suitable for a septic system for the motel. Percolation tests, he said, showed that the

Takes Over Car Agency

Earl Stringer, who has served as sales manager for 14 years at the car agency at 960 Main St., under three owners, has taken over the business as of February 17.

Mr. Stringer will operate an agency for Dodge and Dart cars, and Jeep. He feels that he can offer a little more quality with Dodge (the agency formerly sold Mercury's) and somewhat quicker delivery.

Mr. Stringer plans to retain essentially the same staff, and to build up the service department.

Mr. Stringer lives at Petite Lake, with his wife, Helen, a registered nurse at Victory Memorial, and their three children, David, 14, Susie, 12 and John, 7.

Mike Sterbenz Sets New Scoring Record

The Antioch Sophs closed out their season last week-end with resounding victories over Wauconda and Grayslake. The Antioch lads rolled over Wauconda Friday night 67 to 35 and then in their last home game Saturday turned back Grayslake 61 to 50.

Mike Sterbenz scored 43 points in the two games and set a new scoring record for Sophomores in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Mike had a conference total of 290 points beating the old mark held by Bob Caldwell of Grayslake by 49 points.

Caldwell is now a senior playing for Grayslake and set his 241 point record total as a sophomore. Sterbenz had an overall season total of 355 points.

The Salvation Army Reports

The Salvation Army, which goes quietly on its way helping those who need help, 365 days a year, after year, has released its annual service report of welfare services rendered in the counties of Lake, McHenry, Kane, DuPage and Will, Ill., and Lake County, Indiana.

The report shows a total of 1,513 persons aided at a total cost of $37,150.98. The services rendered include local health service (medical, dental, optical, hospital) to 30 people; local family service (groceries, rent, fuel, etc.) to 584 people; transient service to 312 people; seasonal service (Christmas, Thanksgiving, camps) to 323 people; and other services (disaster, school books, clothing, etc.) to 205 people. In addition, 59 unmarried mothers were helped.

Relatively unpublished, the Salvation Army finds word-of-mouth advertising effective. Those who work on Doughnut Day probably get the most universally warm acceptance accorded any fund drive worker. Those who can't give are more likely to feel apologetic than annoyed.

$37,000.00 is a small amount of money measured against huge quotas set in many fund drives. A helping hand to 1,500 people is a lot of service rendered for that comparatively small amount.

A Curb on Easy Credit

Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, Democratic Congresswoman from Missouri and head of the subcommittee on House consumer affairs, has suggested that it's time to start thinking about legislation to curb the easy credit so freely ladled out by many stores.

Mrs. Sullivan didn't mention finance companies who advertise tempting invitations to borrow money for everything from vacations to funerals "on your signature only" but they might easily be included in the legislation she speaks of.

Mrs. Sullivan is not against responsible credit buying or selling, but against the irresponsible, freely given credit practiced by some stores.

It's unlikely that her suggestions will be met with much enthusiasm, with President Johnson intent on stimulating the national economy. However, it's encouraging that the matter has been brought up, and perhaps eventually other congressmen will become interested in the problem.

Some people, Mrs. Sullivan points out, become "credit addicts", unable to resist the lure of "a dollar down and a dollar a week". Unwary young couples may find themselves so deeply in debt that it takes years to struggle out. Other families, carried away by the picture of gracious living at a small amount weekly, are finally forced into bankruptcy by their pile of debts.

Mrs. Sullivan suggests several measures to combat the easy credit and high carrying charge practice. One is that state legislatures abolish garnishment. This would certainly serve as an excellent deterrent to stores and/or finance companies who use easy credit as a means of attracting business.

Another measure suggested is that congress pass a "credit disclosure" bill requiring merchants to show exactly how much interest is charged on credit purchases. Many buyers would think twice if they saw in black and white how much the article they're considering is actually going to cost them before it's paid for.

Small merchants should be all for Mrs. Sullivan's suggestions. They can't afford the risk involved in the easy credit, small payment sales. They lose a lot of trade to the stores whose biggest selling point is often the easy credit they extend.

Ruined:

The man who used to run a small town business groaned as he declared:

"Advertising has ruined my business." Several listeners looked at him questioningly, but finally one asked: "How come?"

"I let my competitors do all of it," the "has been" replied.

Editor's note: A clipping of our recent editorial, "The War on Poverty," was enclosed with the following letter to the Editor:

Certainly to be classed with the most worthless, irresponsible, baseless, undocumented, emotional trash I have ever had the misfortune of reading.

My sympathy, too, lies with the poor and underprivileged. However, I feel that the energy and direction of the nation as a whole are much more important. If we do not heed the continuous responsibility to strengthen and develop the abilities of our society we shall soon become a nation of poor.

For this reason we cannot endure give away programs which sap initiative and remove the need for work. Although such programs are an excellent salve to our consciences, I would venture to say that bureaucracy and our aggressive society of loafers effectively channeled the help away from the really needy.

We must base any system of welfare on a harsh set of rules which will allow subsistence but will force people to exercise what initiative and intelligence they do have to gain a somewhat more comfortable existence.

Let us use a more positive approach. Man is happiest if he is creative.

BUD.

DEAR SIR:

It has always been our belief that all men are equal in the eyes of the law, but apparently this philosophy does not hold true where a tavern owner is concerned.

This is particularly true where the laws concerning the sale of liquor to minors are involved. There are state and local laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors.

There is a companion law which makes it unlawful for a minor to purchase or consume alcoholic beverages. It is unlawful for a minor to falsify his age for the purpose of purchasing liquor.

Unfortunately, only one part of this law is applied as a general rule, that part concerning the SALE of liquor by a tavern owner.

Admittedly there are some tavern owners who are not overly zealous in guarding against the sale of liquor to minors, but the vast majority of them recognize that the possible loss of their business is a poor gamble against the chance to ring up another dollar sale on the cash register.

Since even the most careless or the most greedy tavern owner has never been accused of dragging minors in off the streets and forcing them to buy a drink, it is reasonable to suppose that any violation of the teen age drinking law must be initiated by the minor.

The minor enters a tavern knowing that he is under age. He knowingly produces a falsified identification card. He willfully orders and consumes alcoholic beverages knowing that he is breaking the law. He also knows that he is virtually immune from prosecution for these violations.

When teen-age drinking results in the death of some youngsters as it did recently it is tragic, but the tavern owners should not be made the only scapegoat. Those who purchased the liquor and those who drank it must share in the responsibility.

The Tavern Owners Association of Lake County does not condone teenage drinking nor will it go to the defense of any member who knowingly and repeatedly sells to minors. However, the Association feels that the law must be enforced on both sides.

The teenagers who break the law must share in the punishment. They must be made to realize that they cannot willfully break the law with impunity.

A slap on the wrist for one transgressor and the destruction of a man's business do not balance the scales of justice.

SPEAKING TO YOU

By John Burlend

Director of Social Studies,
Rockford East High School

Matter of fact, I feel a little sorry for Senator Barry Goldwater. He seems to be a pleasant, amiable fellow, well liked by all who know him personally. On TV he is relaxed and genial; so long as he stays off public affairs, he looks good.

It is his friends who have brought him to his present plight. There is a slight possibility that he might be the next president. Agreed that the chances are slight, the fact remains that a twist of events, an unlucky break or two could land him in the White House. It must make him wake at night in a cold sweat; if things should go wrong, he might have to make the decisions on Cuba, on Panama, on Viet Nam and a score of other foreign problems as well as a pocketful of domestic ones.

The painful fact is that the senator is ill equipped for that burden and nobody knows it better than Barry himself. With an unprecedented and disarming candor he has stated, "You know I haven't really got a first class brain," and, before he finally took the plunge, he confessed that the possibility of finding himself president, "scared the hell out of me."

That is not surprising. He has the poorest equipment for the presidency of any major candidate since Warren G. Harding. I am not one who believes that a college education is a proof of quality; the fact remains that college provides the man who wants to take advantage of it a chance to read, to think, and to discuss the issues of his time. Truman did not have a college education, but he tried to make up for that lack by a great deal of reading in the field of government and American history. There is no evidence that reading attracted Barry any more than college.

Even in the Senate he did not get into the kind of work that prepares him for the presidency. His chief task in the Senate has been chairing the man of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee which saw him traveling to every corner of the country making speeches and collecting funds for the party. He made friends in the party but it left him little time for constructive thinking.

It was his success in this field that accounts for his trouble today. He discovered that the more he poured it on, the more money poured into the coffers of the party. No statement was too extreme to bring cheers and the stamping of feet. No one holds a man to account for what he says to the faithful at a party rally. So the senator got the habit of reckless statement without correction.

There was another baleful influence in his background: the family and business friends were not just conservative; they were extra-conservative. Their talk followed the pattern at the country club bar, or in the lounge of the Union League Club. The Phoenix papers were not just reactionary; they went "about as far as they could go."

The people he came to like were all pretty much of the same trend of mind: Trent Sizell; the McCarthy ghost writer; Bill Buckley, arch conservative; and even Robert Welch of the Birch Society. These and others being about home and that robin I told you about. I often think of him and wonder if he is still there in my apple tree. I wonder if he knew it was going to be cold down here.

I left Channel Lake after the ice derby and came down here and have been cold ever since. We have not had one full day of sun since I have been here, and that is no bunk.

I have been here since Jan. 13 and have no tan and have not had a swim.

My best to all.

F. Royer

Ed. Note: You may remember the story in the Antioch News some time ago about the robin which was evidently staying here through the winter and came every day to eat apples left on Mr. Royer's tree. Seems this robin knew when he was well off.

came the source of many of his ideas.

So Sen. Goldwater went on record on a lot of ideas peculiar to the radical right, and he accepted them uncritically.

On the income tax, 1960, he said: "Government has a right to claim an equal percentage of each man's wealth and no more."

"Let welfare be a private concern."

"Labor unions seriously compromise American freedom."

"I have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the U. S. no longer has a place in the U.N."

He has advocated breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia, he would send Marines to Cuba, opposed our social system, has feared a villain control over the military, and has urged that field commanders be given authority to use atomic weapons.

He has spent a good deal of time retreating from these outposts as he discovered that a great many conservatives were shocked at such extravagance. The unfortunate fact seems to be that he accepted such ideas from his friends without serious thought. I do not suggest that he did not believe what he was saying three years ago; it had simply not dawned upon him that these were untenable positions.

Warren Harding was hoisted into the presidency by friends who knew what they wanted. Harding had an unhappy feeling that he was cast for a role that he could not play. The tragedy of Harding was that he accepted an office for which he was almost totally unprepared.

Barry would be much happier roaming the countryside, shooting from the hip, and causing as much commotion as a cowboy in town on Saturday night. What a president says causes reaction all around the world. No wonder Sen. Goldwater has an empty feeling in the pit of his stomach as he accepts the possibility that he might be elected president of the U.S.

The big Candidates' Dinner, sponsored by the Avon Township Republican Club last Saturday was one of the biggest and finest events of this type held in Lake County in our memory.

The audience actually overwhelmed the candidates, although the aspirants for office wouldn't have been quite as welcomed if all 32 candidates for Republican nominations at the state level had been on hand.

Some of the guests had a bit of trouble finding their table courtesy because of the blizzard of pamphlets, cards, and brochures distributed by the candidates and their cliques.

The stacks of literature indicated once more that political campaigns can be a tremendous boost to the printing and graphic arts industries and that any efforts to reduce the number of elective offices would encounter strong opposition from the printing lobby.

Max Wildman, the national convention delegate aspirant who wound up the meeting with a talk about George Washington was working under a handicap because of an earlier comment by State Senator Robert Coulson.

Sen. Coulson suggested that the reason political parties had never canonized Washington as they had Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson was the First President's reputation for telling the truth.

With this in mind Wildman was hard put to it when he tried to tie George in with the GOP.

The Automobile Industry

It was recently estimated the average motorist spends $36 per week on his car. This includes the financed purchase price, annual depreciation, insurance, license, and of course oil and gas.

The fact this represents more money than many families spend on their homes indicates how important the automobile has become to all of us. Its importance has made the car industry the largest single business in the country by far.

Is it possible for the average motorist to get more value out of his motoring dollar than he now does? We think so. So we're planning to devote this space each week to some plain talk about the automobile business.

How can a motorist deal most wisely who is trading in his old car on a new one? Or make the even more difficult decision of what used car to buy? And how can he get the most performance satisfaction out of the car he now has?

This industry is changing rapidly, even for our changing world. Being on the inside looking out we'd like to share some of our knowledge of this business with you. We're sure a lot of light can be shed on a problem by discussing it honestly.

We hope, as we go along, we'll make a friend of many of you. And perhaps you'll see fit to deal with us. But whether you do or not, we know you'll find most of what we have to say both interesting and helpful. See you next week.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

Illinois recently became the first state in this country to raise the combination of children and family services to department services, creating the new cabinet-level Department of Children and Family Services.

This new agency, which began operations Jan. 1, is a recognition that the needs of many groups of citizens were being ignored because of restrictive qualifications in former programs, such as location, veterans status of the parents or religion. Services to minority groups were frequently lacking.

No one recognized the gap between needs and services more than the voluntary agencies in this complex field. These agencies, which had been doing a fine job against tremendous odds, were among the most enthusiastic backers of the new department.

The lack of services was apparent in many areas. Care for children outside their own homes, for instance, has been traditional, but many were being ignored. In other cases there seemed to be a lack of effort in returning foster-care children to their families. Parental responsibility and involvement were often ignored. There was a lack of placement facilities.

Another example was day-care centers and day-care foster homes. The number of working mothers is at an all-time high, but the needed facilities to care for their pre-school and school-age children were not available. Children were often left unprotected as the result of hazardous make-shift plans. The new department plans to encourage the creation of voluntary facilities, and will continue the practice of licensing such facilities. It will also strengthen the state program through direct operation and purchase of care.

The department will offer other programs for unwed mothers, adoption, family counseling, physically and emotionally handicapped persons, homemaker service and child protection.

We are not going to clear up the problems of 50 years overnight, but we are on our way. Our goal is that no child or family that has need of services will be denied them. We intend to reach that goal.

Truck Hits Tavern After Collision

A truck driven by LaVear Radle, 41, of Mundelein, crashed into the front door of Mark Turner's Castle, at the intersection of Routes 45 and 173 Monday afternoon about 5 p.m. after colliding with a car driven by James Young, 24, of 4463 68th St., Kenosha.

Young was taken to St. Therese Hospital after the accident with injuries suffered when his head went through the windshield of his car. He was reported in good condition.

Radle and a passenger, Robert Olsen, Mundelein, were taken to the office of Dr. Abderholden in Antioch. Neither apparently suffered serious injuries.

Young said he was going east on Route 173. He said that he saw the truck approaching the intersection from the north, and saw that it was not going to stop. He put on his brakes, he said, and cut to the right.

Radle, driver of the truck, said the light was green as he approached the intersection, and that it turned orange just as he was about to enter the intersection. He cut left trying to avoid Young's car. The car and truck collided in the center of the east-bound lane. The truck then hit the Castle.

Sales Tax Collected For October

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18—City sales taxes collected in November 1963 on October liability grossed $5,554,767 and county sales taxes for the same period grossed $383,224. The Illinois Department of Revenue reported today.

Sales taxes collected in Antioch for this period amounted to $4,672.58. Sales taxes collected in Lake County for this period were $13,855.95.

Child deaths due to measles are 25 times greater in Mexico than in the U. S., largely because underfed children have no resistance. Contributions to CARE'S Food Crusade provide milk and other foods to nourish 350,000 youngsters at Mexican health clinics. Donations may be sent to CARE, 1 South State St., Chicago, Ill. 60603.

KEITH LEACH, Zion, Illinois State Director of the Real Estate Board; Charles Cermak, Antioch, President of the Lake County Board of Realtors; Mary Poe Rodbro, vice president; William J. Murphy, State Representative, and William Schwandt, secretary-treasurer, as the officers of the Lake County Realtors were installed.

Civil Service Job Available

The Chicago Post Office Board of United States Civil Service Examiners announced today applications are being accepted for the position of Distribution Clerk with employment at either the North or South Suburban Facility. The North Facility is located at 3412 North River Road, Franklin Park, Illinois, and the South Facility, 7400 South Kostner Avenue, Chicago.

The starting rate of pay is $2.33 per hour for substitute employees and $4,690 per year for regular employees.

The minimum age limits for these positions is 18; however, this age limit is waived for high school graduates. They may be appointed when they reach their 18th birthday provided local child labor laws permit. There is no maximum age limit.

A copy of the announcement, which gives full particulars, may be secured at the Antioch post office or any postoffice in which this announcement is posted. Also, from the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Room 312, Main Post Office Building, Chicago, Ill. 60607. Applications must be received, or postmarked no later than March 17, 1964, the closing date of the announcement.

Army Training A Choice

No man is just a member in today's Army. When you stop and think about it for a minute, it wouldn't make much sense if he were. The individual soldier is the most important element in the Army's defense team. It costs more to train and take care of him than it does to build the most complex mechanical weapon.

It's not unusual for Army men to receive training in subjects they choose themselves. Again, it's only logical—when a man is doing a job he knows and likes, he's better off—and so is the Army. If you qualify, you can even choose your Army training before you enlist.

And what about the jobs no one likes? Army men are trained to handle those jobs, too—because Army training has made them the toughest, smartest fighting men in the world.

If you can qualify for that training, get in touch with your local Army Counselor, his name is Sgt. Arthur R. Nelson, his telephone number is ON 2-5260, and the address is United States Recruiting Station, 620 1/2 Washington St., Waukegan.

No problem will go away just because its feelings are hurt at being ignored.

GOP Plan Dinner Party

Plans for the Antioch Township Republican Club's 6th annual dinner party went into high gear with the appointment of Elmer Eberman to head the ticket committee, while club president Herb Horton, Sheriff Charles Larson, James Olson, and Bernard Osmond handle details of the party being held at the newly enlarged Lorenz's Smart Country House, Saturday evening, March 28.

Installation of the new slate of officers who will be elected at the March 18 meeting being held at Charlie Haling's Grass Lake Resort, will be one of the highlights of the evening, coupled with the presence of one of the highest ranked Republican leaders in the state who will be the principal speaker.

Because many person who will wish to attend this affair, and since tickets will be limited to the comfortable capacity of the Smart Country House, club officials urged that tickets be obtained early to avoid disappointment. Cocktails begin at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. Smart Country House is located one-half mile west of Antioch on Highway 173.

Candidates for office, who will be elected at the March 18 meeting, include: for president, Herbert Horton and Jim Olson; 1st vice president, Richard Striblein and Leonard Case; 2nd vice president, Herman Behm and Peter Schaffer; treasurer, Elmer Eberman and Richard Striblein; secretary, Harry Weiland, and for sergeant-at-arms, Jim Olson and Olaf Mathisen.

soil was more than usually favorable for such a system, and the board of health had no objections on sanitary grounds.

It was brought out during the hearing that a former petition of the Kljaks for the rezoning had been refused by the County Board.

Recommendation of the Zoning Board will be submitted to the County Board at its next meeting on March 9.

Football? To Engross Woman's Club

The Antioch Woman's Club, the citadel of the Antioch club-woman, the epitome of all that is feminine, has finally opened its cloistered ranks to admit the weaker sex. Or, at least, it's scheduled to do so at next Monday's meeting.

Not only will two men be present at next Monday's meeting at the Antioch Scout House. They will be representatives of the rough, tough pro football team, the Bears.

The guest speakers for the afternoon, Rudy Custer, business manager, and Chuck Mather, a coach, will be accompanied by their wives.

The representatives of the football team will show a movie of the Bears' championship game. The movie lasts 26 minutes.

Not only will the two men be there, the members of the club are inviting their husbands to join them for this meeting. This is Reciprocity Day, very possibly the first time in history that men have been invited to join the ladies of the club for their afternoon meeting—other than a few masculine speakers.

The meeting will start at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, March 2.

Social Notes

By Del Jahneke

On Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 18, Mrs. Effie Nelson, Antioch, entertained her bridge club at her home. There were four tables of bridge-playing friends present.

Mrs. Ruth Peters and Mrs. Ella Brown of Wheeling, Ill., and Mr. Don Fleak, Michigan, were dinner guests at the Joseph Horton home on Sunday, Feb. 16.

Cadet Sergeant Ed Jahneke, Jr., Beach Grove, of Onarga Military School had been entered into District swimming and diving competition, this past week. The judges had selected him as one of the semi-finalists when he accidentally disqualified himself. In executing his fifth intricate dive, he somehow miscalculated, and his forehead struck the side of the diving board, badly gashing his forehead, and narrowly missing his eye. He was rushed by ambulance to the Mennonite Hospital in Bloomington, where physicians attended him.

The district play-offs took place in the Bloomington High School on Friday, Feb. 21. He is still suffering a severe headache, plus the disappointment of not being able to be one of the finalists. However, several days previously, the OMS faculty had presented him with an "Honorable Mention" Bar (to be worn on his uniform) for outstanding performance in athletics.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

FALSE ECONOMY. John A. Shiffert, Executive Secretary Diaper Service Industry Assn.

A recent column which I wrote expounding the many values of diaper service resulted in a number of letters from readers chiding me for having overlooked the cost factor involved. Stated one letter writer:

"You may be right when you say that my home laundered diapers are not done as scientifically as those processed by a diaper service. But you're forgetting diaper service costs money. It costs me nothing to do my baby's diapers at home."

Nothing is such a complete word. So, we decided to do our own cost analysis of the home laundering procedure for diapers recommended by the medical profession and the National Baby Care Council.

The answer we came up with was certainly a long way from nothing. The way be figured it, the home laundering of diapers costs $2.14 a week.

Here's how we arrived at this figure: soap, softener and bleach, 58 cents; water and antiseptic to protect against diaper rash, 72 cents; gas and electricity, 16 cents; prorated cost of diapers and hamper, 20 cents; depreciation of equipment, 48 cents. Total $2.14.

Just how much cheaper is this home laundering cost than is the cost of retaining a professional diaper service? According to our studies, the average national charge for diaper service is about $2.52 a week.

Thus, the mother who does her baby's diapers at home saves, on the average, about 38 cents a week, or just about 5 1/2 cents a day. To make this saving possible, she must, during baby's diaper wearing age, spend approximately 547 hours washing 7,410 diapers.

To answer our readers, if it appeared that we had overlooked the cost factor involved in diaper service, it was only because from the cost standpoint diaper service and home laundering are nearly the same. However, the similarity ends here.

The high standards of professional diaper service are constantly checked by strict laboratory control to guarantee diapers that are clinically clean, helps protect baby from diaper rashes. The complex equipment and scientific processes used by diaper services cannot be duplicated in the home. Besides, as any mother will readily admit, diaper service is a modern necessary convenience, that can be classed with processed baby foods.

Open House To Celebrate Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen have lived in Antioch many years. He's a retired contractor. They have one daughter, Eleanor Goetz of Chicago, and two sons, Kenneth and Robert of Antioch. The Mortensens have ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Red Cross Gives Blood

Illinois State Health Department and physicians in the state received 25,361 milliliters of two blood-based serums, gamma and vaccinia immune globulin, without charge from American Red Cross in the last fiscal year, H. Mayo Harris, volunteer Red Cross National Fund Vice Chairman for Illinois announced in Moline recently.

Harris said voluntary donors to the Red Cross Blood Program make possible distribution of blood-derived vaccines to state health departments, and in special cases to individual physicians. Fifty-six strategically located regional blood centers serve donors in 42 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Public health agencies in 18 states received 38% of this figure to be administered without charge. National Red Cross laboratories used another 30% in research. A portion of the remainder went direct from Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., to doctors, on request, to serve patients with continuing needs for gamma globulin. In other cases, physicians were supplied with the serum directly for research purposes. Regional blood centers requisitioned quantities to fill special requests within their territories.

Harris said the blood fractionation program is one of the many important local, national, and international Red Cross services supported entirely through voluntary contributions to local independent Red Cross or federated fund campaigns. Many Illinois communities, he said, will be conducting campaigns in March to raise their share of the funds needed to support these services.

Scouts To Do Good Turn

A "Good Turn for Goodwill" clothing drive will be staged Saturday, February 20, by the North Shore Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, for Goodwill Industries.

On Saturday morning, Feb. 22, Scouts, Cubs, and Explorers distributed large paper Goodwill bags to homes in Glenview, Winnetka, Northfield, Kenilworth, Wilmette, Deerfield, Northbrook, Glenview, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Port Sheridan, Highland Park, Libertyville, Mundelein, Antioch, Grayslake, and Fox Lake.

Residents are asked to fill the bags with usable clothing and small household articles and place the filled bags on their front porches for pick-up by the Scouts the following Saturday, Feb. 20. Goodwill trucks will be stationed at points throughout the area to receive bags the Scouts have obtained from homes.

This "Good Turn" drive will greatly help Goodwill Industries in its program of rehabilitating, training and placing in private employment Goodwill's handicapped workers, said William Ragolio, executive director.

Materials that are collected by the Scouts will be repaired and renovated, then sold in Goodwill's 11 retail stores. Sales of donated materials provide the main source of wages paid to Goodwill's handicapped workers, Ragolio said.

Richard Harland, Scoutmaster, announced that Pack 300 and Troop 91 of Antioch distributed the bags last Saturday, and will start their pick-up at 10 a.m. next Saturday, Feb. 20.

Householders are asked to leave the bags on their front doorsteps Saturday so that they won't be missed.

Janet Polley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Polley, 998 Osmond Ave., achieved "highest honors" on the Dean's List at Cornell College in recognition of outstanding academic achievement in the first semester. Twenty-three students made the highest honors list.

Sigma Chapter of Delta Omicron, International Professional Fraternity for women in music, was chartered as Wesleyan in 1926. Judith is a freshman at IWU this year.

Methodist Men To Hear About Taxes

Roy J. Swanson, an Internal Revenue Service agent since 1957, will be the speaker at the Methodist Men's Club Dinner being held Monday night, March 2, at Wesley Hall.

By Marilyn Gras

Ray Sheppard, 112 pound wrestler, captured first place in his weight class at the Waukegan sectional meet last Saturday. Ray defeated Bob Shines of Waukegan 0-2 in overtime to win the title. He will represent ACHS at the state finals at Northwestern University next weekend. Lon Ipsen, Antioch's heavy-weight, finished in third place in the sectional.

After a loss to Wauconda Friday night, Sequoit hoopers bounced back to defeat Grayslake 74-63 on Saturday. This leaves Antioch in sole possession of fourth place behind Wauconda, Grant and Lake Forest.

Tryouts for the Spring play PYGMALION were held last week in the auditorium. Lead roles went to Kathy Lusik as Eliza, and to Lloyd Pedersen, who will play Professor Higgins. PYGMALION will be presented on April 3 and 4.

Honor Societies at ACHS have chosen their new members. On Monday teachers elected high-ranking Juniors and Seniors to the National Honor Society. Quill and Scroll, an honor society for students working on school publications, gained one new member, Shirley Reichenbach. The National Business Honor Society also increased in size. NBHS officers are: President, Terry Starman; Vice President, Barbara Zeeman; and Ellen Enis, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Antioch concert band will present its Spring Concert on Saturday, March 7. Featured soloists will be Sandy Sawusch in Magle Trumpet by James Burke, and Roy Miller in Thundering Drums, by Louis Bellan. Many other classical and modern numbers are included on the program for the evening.

The Bi-Phi-Chem club has planned a Science Open House program to be held in connection with the PTA meeting next Wednesday evening. ACHS science students will display their projects in the science rooms across from the cafeteria. Any interested persons may view the projects that evening. All awards will be presented at a special program on March 12.

County Offers Tree-Planting Service

S. Burton Lee, chairman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District, stated that the district's newly purchased tree planting machine is now being scheduled for the Spring planting season.

He urged property owners to order their trees now, and to make arrangements for the machine. Otherwise they may be disappointed by a limited supply of trees, or the unavailability of the machine at the time the stock arrives.

The District has made arrangements for a tractor and two men to be available to operate the tree planting machine on the property, so a complete job can be done in a minimum amount of time.

Arrangements for the tree-planting service may be made by contacting the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District Office, at 71 South Old Rand Road, in Lake Zurich. The telephone number is 438-1281. Property owners using the tree-planting service may have their trees which are ordered from the Illinois State Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, picked up by the district at the nursery, if they so desire.

Other assistance available, Lee added, is "cost sharing" which is handled through the A.S.C.S. Office in Grayslake; and recommendations as to varieties and planting ratio, given by Elmer Werhane, a trained forester.

Must Stop Car Deaths, Says Babcox

The appalling slaughter on Lake County highways the first two months of the New Year is a community responsibility which involves everyone, one in Lake County, Coroner Robert H. Babcox said today after completing his investigation of the latest highway death.

"With the highway toll at 23 since Jan. 1 we're well on our way to setting a new record for highway murder and suicide and it will take the combined efforts of everyone in the county to avoid this dubious distinction," Babcox asserted.

"Fixing the responsibility for the epidemic of traffic deaths is easy," Babcox said, "because in one way or another the blame attaches to all of us." "The careless mechanic who does slipshod work on the brakes or steering assembly of a car; the highway patrolman who ignores the speeder or reckless driver; the bartender who serves a driver another drink when he is already drunk; and the 'fixer' who 'takes care' of a traffic ticket all play a part in this carnage."

The too-lenient judge, the angle-shooting lawyer, and the inefficient highway maintenance man share in the responsibility for these traffic deaths, the veteran coroner insisted.

"All of these people contribute in some measure to the grim and bloody statistics we are compiling in Lake County, but the ultimate responsibility rests with the driver," Babcox said.

"Nobody else can think for the driver, nobody can react for him. Each person who gets behind the wheel of a car today must use his head or he will lose it," Babcox warned.

"After 12 years as Lake

Civil Defense Course Is Important

Lake County Civil Defense is again offering a course in Radiological Monitoring, starting Saturday, March 14, 1964, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, at Barat College, Lake Forest, Ill.

It is essential that schools, hospitals and business establishments that have been surveyed, marked and stocked with shelter supplies, by the Federal Government, have one or more of their personnel take the above training course, in order to learn the use of radiological equipment included in the shelter supplies.

Efficient management of these shelters is the responsibility of the building owners, hospital directors and school superintendents or principals, where shelters have been designated and supplied. It is important that personnel from each building or organization become familiar with the operation of the radiological equipment. Without adequate training, the radiological instruments

County Coroner I still can't shake the dread of that midnight call because I know it probably means another highway death. Each time I wonder if it will be a close friend or relative. Will it be a teenager whose life has ended before it is fairly begun, or will it be a mother and father who have left behind a family of orphans?"

Babcox, who has given highway safety lectures to hundreds of audiences in the past decade, said he will continue his personal safety crusade, but added, "We must find some new, more effective way to 'reach' the people and make them realize that the wheel of an auto is as deadly as the trigger on a gun."

'64 Corvair Monza by Chevrolet

It's got a frisky new engine (that puts superior traction under you)

Ever see a Corvair wearing tire chains? Not likely.

And it's not often you'll find a Corvair owner bothering to switch over to snow tires either.

Why? Rear-engine traction. The engine weight over Corvair's rear wheels gives them remarkable gripping power without any assist from special winter driving paraphernalia.

Reassuring to know this time of year—and also in the months to come when all that tidy white countryside turns into a melting pot that's likely to add to the misery.

Another thing about Corvair's engine: It's bigger this year.

CHEVROLET

Nearly 19 per cent more power in the standard version. Which is something you'll appreciate most any time of year, fair weather or foul.

You'll also appreciate not having to fool around with antifreeze. And not having to flush the radiator or fuss with hose connections. The engine's air cooled.

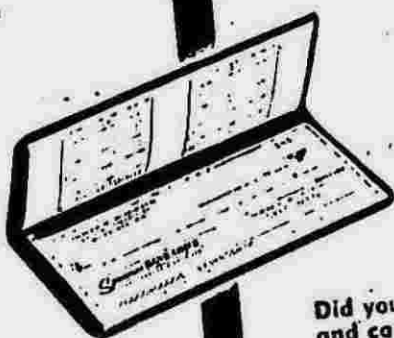

Matter of fact, we have a feeling that if more people knew what a cinch Corvair makes winter driving, there wouldn't be quite so many looking for excuses to duck South this time every year.

But then you never know. Corvair's a kick to drive in warm weather, too. Why not try one at your dealer's and decide for yourself?

MacGillis Outlines County Problems

Vocational training for persons displaced by automation and conservation of natural resources and natural recreational assets in the 52nd Senatorial District are the keystones of his campaign for the Republican nomination for State Senator, Douglas A. MacGillis, Round Lake mayor and businessman, said Tuesday night.

MacGillis outlined the main points of his program during a dinner for Republican precinct committeemen from Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa, and Warren Townships at the Sail Inn, Fox Lake.

"Technical progress in industry, commerce, and the construction trade has reduced the need for the unskilled worker and has placed a premium on training and vocational skills," MacGillis asserted.

"Unless the State of Illinois adopts a positive program to enable those displaced by progress to help themselves to find a new place in our society the state must be willing to accept the responsibility of supporting these displaced people on re-home. He was born May 2, 1893, at Cassoday, Kansas. Mr. Green had been employed for 38 years as field office manager for Bates & Rodgers Construction Corp. in Chicago before his retirement. He married Muriel Spain on Dec. 8, 1924 at Chicago. He held membership in Patmos Masonic Lodge No. 97 A. F. & A. M. at Elorado, Kansas, and also held membership in the Consistory and Median Shrine at Wichita, Kansas.

His survivors are his wife, Muriel, one son W. David Green of Minneapolis, Minn., two daughters, Mrs. William (Nancy) Thielmann, Mount Prospect, Ill., and Mrs. Donald (Sally) Aschom, Madras, India, two brothers, Holt Green, Cassoday, Kansas; and John Green, Russell, Kansas; two sisters, Mrs. Essie Schroeder, Pasadenas, Calif., and Mrs. Tracy (Kitty) Rice, LaJabra, Calif., and 7 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday at Acacia Park Cemetery Chapel in Chicago. Interment was at Acacia Park Cemetery. Friends called at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch from 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. on Monday only. Memorials may be made to the Antioch Rescue Squad or the Heart Fund. Rev. Herbert of Community Presbyterian church of Mt. Prospect, Ill., officiated at the services.

MRS. EMMA TACKLES
Mrs. Emma Tackles, 89 years old of Channel Lake near Antioch, passed away Monday, Feb. 24, at 11:32 a.m. at the Golden Days Nursing Home in Zion, where she had been confined for the past year. Death was due to a lingering illness. She was born April 4, 1875 at Bloomington, Ill., then moved to Chicago in 1905 and to Antioch in 1922. She held membership in St. Peter's Catholic Church at Antioch.

She and her husband, Angelo J. Tackles formerly operate a fruit and vegetable store in Antioch from 1922 to 1933. Her husband, Angelo, preceded her in death on April 13, 1946. She is survived by two sons, John W. Wallace, Chicago, and Horace V. Wallace, Blue Island, Ill., two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral mass was held at 10 a.m. on Wednesday at St. Peter's Church, with interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery at Antioch.

MacGillis insisted.

"We cannot afford this waste of human resources and the despair and degradation which accompanies this waste any more than we can afford a steadily increasing welfare program," the hard-hitting 36 year old candidate declared.

"The waste of human resources in Illinois is matched by the waste in those natural resources which have helped to make the area encompassed by Lake, Boone and McHenry Counties the 'garden spot' of Illinois," MacGillis continued.

"We have the greatest water resources in the state, we have the greatest recreational area potential in the state and we have one of the greatest water pollution problems in the state.

"The special interests of the people of this area demand an end to the pollution of our streams and lakes and the protection of our boating, fishing, and hunting areas, and the special interests of this district will be my special interests in Springfield," MacGillis concluded.

The dinner was one of a series scheduled by the MacGillis for State Senator Committee so he can carry his message directly to the precinct committeemen.

"I intend to take my campaign to the people of the 52nd District wherever and whenever possible, but I also intend to work with the committee and the Republican organization before and after the election," MacGillis told the party workers.

Sequoits Lose To League - Leading Bulldogs, 57 - 41

Antioch failed to find the range Friday night at Wauconda and managed to sink only 16 of 62 attempts from the field as they lost to the league leading Bulldogs 57 to 41.

Trailing 17 to 14 at the end of the first period the Bulldogs poured 16 points through the nets while the cold Sequoits managed to hit only once in 13 attempts to give Wauconda a 33 to 21 edge at halftime.

Antioch rallied in the third quarter and pulled to within 5 points at 38 to 33 before Wauconda again put on a scoring spurt and pulled out to a 46 to 33 third quarter bulge.

The Bulldogs out-scored the Sequoits 11-0 in the fourth quarter for the final 57 to 41 margin. The Sequoits could manage only a meager 28 per cent from the field and missed 12 of 21 from the free throw line.

Wauconda's Mike Freund paced the scoring with 23 points on six baskets and 11 free throws. Ed Matejka was high for the Sequoits with 13 points.

AVENGE LOSS TO GRAYSLAKE

The Sequoits reversed themselves Saturday as they hit a blistering 50% from the field and won over Grayslake 74 to 53. The victory avenged an earlier loss to the Rams and put the Sequoits in undisputed fourth place in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Playing their last game of the current season on their home court, the Sequoits jumped off to a 17 to 10 first quarter lead. By halftime the Sequoits had increased their margin to 36 to 22.

Led by 6'8" Vic Rogers the Sequoits continued to hit the nets in the third quarter and moved out still farther with a 55 to 34 margin.

The Rams put on a rally in the fourth quarter as they dumped in 29 points but the 21 point third quarter edge proved too much and the Sequoits held on for the 74 to 53 final.

Vic Rogers was the leading scorer with 24 points on 10 baskets and 4 free throws. Vic also did an outstanding job on defense and gathered in 14 rebounds before the contest ended. Ed Matejka and Jeff Gates also hit for double figures for the Sequoits with 12 and 11 points respectively. Parker was high for the Rams with 13 points.

Sheppard To Go To State Tournament

Ray Sheppard (112) will be the first wrestler to ever represent Antioch High School at the State Wrestling Tournament at Northwestern on Friday and Saturday, February 28 and 29. Ray beat Bob Shines of Waukegan in the sectional final 8-3 in overtime to earn the right to advance to the state meet.

Ray Sheppard

His record for the season is now 19-4. However, of these four losses he has avenged each one. He lost to Sanchez of Grant early in the season 5-7, but has since beaten him twice 4-0, and 1-0. He lost to Dunne of Mundelein 4-5 and then in the sectional opener pinned Dunne in 49 seconds.

The other two losses have been at the hands of Waukegan boys, the first being Vardaman in a J.V. match in which Ray was leading 5-0 and ended up on his back in a pinning situation. Vardaman, however, can not beat Shines who owns the only other victory over Ray. Shines beat Ray 3-5 in the finals of the District Tournament, but on the second meeting Ray won 8-3 in an overtime match.

Also wrestling for Antioch in the sectional was Lonn Ipsen who placed third, but does not advance to the state meet. Lonn beat Brown from Deerfield 12-7, lost to Goldman from Evanston 3-6 and then beat Galvin from McHenry 3-1 for the third place finish.

As a team Antioch finished in 8th place with 18 points. There were 27 teams eligible for the sectional title.

Salem Matmen Are Champs

By John Hansen

Salem Central's strong wrestling team captured the SEB conference championship by whipping Waterford and Union Grove 83-58-57. In 9 out of the 12 weight classes Salem wrestlers had beaten Grove and Waterford during the regular season. Even though 4 of the Salem wrestlers were upset the Falcons' depth won out. The Falcons had 11 of 12 in the finals as compared to 7 for Waterford and 5 for Grove. Five Falcons won individual titles: Bill Benckstein, a freshman, at 95 lbs., Jim Stolnack, 103; George Schlager, 112; and Bill Nelson 133. Jim Durkin, Ron Keppler, Wayne Seitz, Ron Gilmore, Greg Klehko, Wayne Remus and Mike Herth took seconds.

Coach Dennis Kerkman's grapplers are now preparing to defend their WIAA regional championship. The regionals will be held at Mukwonago.

Falcons Finish Season With 9-0 Record

By John Hansen

With the conference crown in their possession the Salem Central Falcons went through the formality of playing out the conference schedule as the Falcons beat Union Grove with ease 80-70.

Salem held a 15 to 21 point lead throughout most of the second half as the Salem offense hit its high point of the year. Union Grove once again could not hold Bob Hofer. The big senior hit 31 points. He scored 26, 35, and 31 points against Grove this year.

Racking up Hofer was Bruce Dunk who scored 11 points and Jim Herda who scored 9. The Falcons out-rebounded the Grove 49-35. Three Falcons shared the lead, Hofer with 19, Dunk 13, and Muhlenbeck 11.

The win gives Salem a perfect 9-0 conference mark and a 15-2 overall mark.

Union Grove started the game off by placing two men on Hofer but the strategy backfired. While the Broncos kept close tabs on Hofer, Dunk scored 7 points. When they picked up Dunk, Hofer scored 6 and the rout was on. Salem led 22-13 at the quarter.

Aided by some sharp passing by Glen Muhlenbeck, Hofer scored 11 points in the second quarter and Salem moved ahead by 18 with 2 minutes left. Grove cut it to 41-32 but Salem moved out of danger by scoring 4 points in the closing seconds to lead 44-32 at the half.

The scoring tempo slowed down somewhat in the 3rd quarter as Salem outscored Grove 16-15. Just as in the 2nd quarter, Grove came within 9 with about a minute left but once again Salem pushed in the last 4 points to maintain their lead.

The Salem eagles really began to roll in the last quarter. Salem outscored the worn-out Broncos 19-11 and leaped ahead 70-58 with 1:41 left. Coach Don Grams called off the barrage and Grove blitzed the Falcon reserves 12-1 the remainder of the game.

Some hot shooting by Guy Flaschner enabled the Falcon B's to win their 15th game of the year 54-40.

Savings Bond Chain Letters Are Illegal

An upsurge of college campus chain letter schemes involving United States Savings Bonds, Postal Money Orders and cash has prompted Chief Postal Inspector Henry B. Montague to order a nationwide crackdown on violators of the postal lottery and fraud laws.

He cited reports of chain letter schemes at colleges in Mississippi, Wisconsin, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York, among others.

Mr. Montague warned that even though some of the chain letters involved are transferred hand-to-hand, and state "Do Not Mail" the schemes still may be violations of the postal lottery and fraud laws in that the proceeds from the chain letters are usually mailed.

Mr. Montague noted that the U. S. Treasury Department also disapproves of the use of these schemes as a means of selling savings bonds.

The typical chain letter provides for a monetary item to be sent to the name on the top of an enclosed list, after which that name is removed and the new participant's name is added to the bottom of the list. Copies of the chain letter are then sent to two more people.

Mr. Montague noted that efforts to avoid prosecution under the lottery laws by eliminating the element of chance are evident in some of the recent chain letter schemes. This gimmick involves having the potential participant place his own name on the bond used to purchase the letter, as a co-owner. This enables him to cash the bond, if he is unable to sell two letters, thereby incurring no loss to himself.

Police Rescue Bruised Rescuers

By Bernice Bernau

Thirty-seven members and guests of the Lindenhurst Men's Club had more excitement than they planned on when they attended the hockey game in Chicago a week ago, at the Chicago Stadium.

Getting settled in the bus that transported the group there, they heard a woman scream that her purse had been stolen. Immediately the fellows jumped out of the bus and pursued the thief. In the pitch dark, they didn't see the low wire fence, and four of the fellows tripped over it. The men in back of them stopped and helped them up. In the meantime the police arrived, and about five squads drove around looking for the purse snatcher, but he and his accomplice got away. The police took Mike Fidanzo, Claude Anderson, Gene Wiczorek and Danny Sanko to the County hospital for treatment.

Anderson skinned his face in the cinders when he fell, and it was scratched quite badly. Monday evening he complained of his arm hurting him and went to see his doctor. Fidanzo skinned his leg from his ankle to his knee and wrenched his back. Both had to be taped and bandaged up. Sanko bruised his hands and legs when he fell. Wiczorek blacked out when he fell, and suffered bruises on his legs.

"My son wanted a car with bucket seats. My daughter wanted a car with four doors. And I wanted a car with easy handling and a comfortable ride. We shopped around and found what we wanted in Ford—so we bought one."

MRS. MARY HERTZKA, HINSDALE, ILL.

Ford changed... so did we!

Don't take Ford's word for it. Read what '64 Ford owners say, then test-drive a Ford before you buy any new car.

MR. SAM DATILLO, CHICAGO, ILL.

"In trading another make for a new Fairlane... I got an entirely different kind of car. Fairlane's got much more room. The styling is much more beautiful. The ride is smoother. My other car vibrated; but my new Fairlane doesn't seem to 'feel' the bumps at all."

MR. KENNETH B. MATTS, JR., CHICAGO, ILL.

"I'm really in love with my new Falcon. The ride is great... and for a compact, it's really relaxing to drive. I got the V-8 for lots of performance and I'm really getting it!"

MRS. OTTO CESARIO, SKOKIE, ILL.

"We had a lot of good reasons for choosing our new Ford. Now we don't have to fill the gas tank every other day. It's easier to drive and park. It's easy to look at, easy to handle. And the interior is very easy to clean—even with children."

In today's most modern homes and apartments

There are no chilly drafts with flameless electric heating

In many homes and apartments (even with the heat turned up to 80°), playing on the floor near a large window is like asking for a sneeze or a sniffle.

In an electrically heated home or apartment, there is no such concern. Here, stiff, wintry winds are stopped at the window's edge. There are no chilly drafts sneaking across floors or hiding in corners. Bare arms and legs stay as warm as they do in June. The only way you know winter is around is when you go outdoors.

You get a lot of extras

Like the refrigerator that replaced the icebox, Electric Heating costs more, but it offers more, too. With it, for example, your home or apartment stays clean far longer. You do a lot less dusting and decorating. The heat is always even. There are no drafts or chills, no dried-out air, no worries about flames, fumes or noisy radiators. Over 850,000 families in the U.S. are now enjoying the exclusive advantages of Electric Heating.

Electric Heating more practical than ever

The latest rate reduction on Electric Heating applies to the three basic systems illustrated below. So, if you're looking for a new home or apartment... plan to build one... or want to modernize the heating in the home or apartment you own, contact us for complete facts on the Electric Heating system that's best for you.

The 3 basic types of Flameless Electric Heating

Radiant Electric Heating—if you want room-by-room heat control. These individual room-heating systems may also be used in combination with either Central Electric Heating or the Electric Heat Pump.

Central Electric Heating—if you want gentle, electrically heated air circulated throughout your home. Central Air Conditioning may be added any time at moderate cost.

Electric Heat Pump—if you want perfect year-round climate in your home. Amazing unit switches to heating or cooling by itself, maintains ideal temperature, humidity

Plenty of Action Is Promised At Fashion Show

The Antioch Woman's Club, and the committee in charge of the affair, are going all out to make a success of the History of Fashions show they'll put on for the benefit of Country Side Hospital. Judging from the enthusiasm generated wherever Mrs. McMillen has shown a few of her historic dolls, and told their stories, there will be no lack of an interested audience when the show is finally staged on March 30 at St. Peter's Social Center in Antioch.

The audience will be seated at tables of ten for the dessert luncheon and the show that will follow. With the show taking place on Easter Monday, there's sure to be a considerable display of eye-pleasing fashions among the women in the audience, as well as those worn by the models.

Prizes will be given at intervals throughout the show. The prizes will have been donated, and the roster of prizes and "contests" is not yet complete. However, some member of the audience will win a hat donated by Mart Anne's Shop. The most attractively hatted blond, brunette, redhead, gray-haired, and "intermediate" lady will be chosen from the ladies present. From among these, a grand prize winner will be chosen, with lesser prizes for the others.

Another prize—or two prizes—will go to the most attractively dressed mother and daughter present—a handbag for the mother, a doll for the daughter.

There will be various other prizes throughout the afternoon. In addition, each table will receive a prize keyed somehow to the doll on that table.

It will be a fast-moving show, with prizes and surprises liberally interspersed throughout the show. The elaborate and luxurious costumes to be worn by the models and the matching dolls are bound to enthrall the feminine audience, and Mrs. McMillen's accompanying story of the lives of the ladies of the past who wore the styles is history at its most interesting, and often witty and humorous.

MRS. RAYMOND BRUHN modeled a few of the costumes that Mrs. James McMillen displayed to members of the Channel Lake PTA last week, with dolls in matching costumes. Here she holds a doll wearing a costume identical to the one she is wearing.

Tickets for the show can be obtained from members of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Jerome Vogler is chairman of the Benefit Show.

You can tell when you are on the right road—it's up-grade.

No News

The cub reporter's first assignment was to report on a wedding, but when the paper went to press he hadn't shown up. When he came in next morning, the angry city editor demanded, "Why didn't you show up last night with your report?"

"There was nothing to report," was the cub's reply. "The bridegroom was killed on the way to the church and the bride died of shock, so there was no wedding. I went home and went to bed."

Ray Enzenbacher will celebrate his 11th birthday February 20. Ray only celebrates his birthday once every four years.

Mrs. James McMillen entertained the Channel Lake PTA last Wednesday evening with a selection of her dolls, dressed in authentic costumes of famous women in history.

Mrs. McMillen has made all these costumes, each one to the very detail of the person it depicts. These dolls, plus models in costume will be presented at the Antioch Woman's Club dessert luncheon to be held March 30, at the social center at St. Peter's School. The proceeds from the luncheon will go to the Countryside Hospital Fund. The PTA also presented a movie, "Where Children Come First" to the members and as it was Founders Month, past presidents and charter members were introduced. Those introduced were Mr. Donald Behling, Mrs. Mary Bierman, Mrs. Lucine Eberman, and Mrs. Myrna Jungman.

Paul Chase is now home after undergoing emergency surgery at St. Therese Hospital for a ruptured appendix. Mr. Chase's brother, Albert (Shorty) is in Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago, suffering with pneumonia.

The following is a message written by Mr. Howard Scott, Superintendent of Channel Lake School to the parents in our district regarding the upcoming Educational Tax Referendum. The referendum will go before the voters for the second time May 2.

DO YOU CONSIDER EDUCATION IMPORTANT?

Your local Board of Education does. In order to provide an adequate education for your children the Board finds it necessary to ask you to approve a rate increase of 20% in your educational tax.

Your Board has been a very conscientious one, maintaining as good an academic program as possible with the funds available. However, unless additional funds are forthcoming it will be necessary to resort to deficit financing, just to continue the

Students to Display Science Projects

High school students will display science projects at the science Open House that will be held in connection with the PTA meeting next Wednesday night. The projects will be set up in the science rooms across from the high school cafeteria. Interested people are urged to stop in and view some of the fine projects which the students will display.

This Science Open House program, sponsored by the Bi-Phy-Chem, will replace the present program, without adding to the curriculum. Projecting our present operating expenses we will have to borrow money to complete this fiscal year.

At the present time the educational tax rate is .71, one of the lowest in the county, and the lowest in the immediate area.

Costs have tripled since the present rate was put into effect in 1952.

It is up to YOU to "get out the vote." The poor turnout at the previous election was not at all representative of the area. You will have this new opportunity on SATURDAY, MAY 2.

Approximately 50 science projects will cover nearly all phases of science. Students plan their studies in one of the following areas: Aeronautics, Anthropology, Astronomy, Botany, Chemistry, Conservation, Electronics, Geology, Geography, Mathematics, Meteorology, Microbiology, Physics, and Zoology.

Outstanding projects will be entered in the District Science Fair, which will be held about a month later. Science students and teachers will serve as judges at the Antioch Science Open House.

Awards presentations will be made at a special ceremony on Thursday, March 12. Each student who enters a project will receive a certificate for either first, second or third place.
